

The FCC should NOT implement any proposal that would lesson Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. This law has improved our daily lives emensely, minimizing if not eliminating the continuous harassing phones calls my family has been receiving for well over three years. I used to literally receive 15 to 20 calls per day. Now I can go days without receiving a sales call. And to make matters worse, the callers these days are rude and mean...often making inappropriate comments when you politely refuse their sales pitch. The importance of this law, and the results in such a short period my family has seen, would make overturning the law a travesty. Please do the right thing, and think of the people, not the profit oriented companies...for a change.
